PURE FOOD EXPERT CITIZENS FACE TO SPEAK HERE TWO PRIMARIES

Dr. Wiley to Deliver Two Lectures at Richmond College.

Richmond's first opportunity to hear the celebrated Dr. Harvey Washington Wiley, Ph. D., LL. D., former chief chemist of the United States Department of Agriculture, will be afforded on April 2 and 3, when the famous expert will speak at Richmond College in the thirty-second course of lectures on the James Thomas lecture endowment fund. As always, the theme of Dr. Wiley's addresses will be "Pure Food in Relation to Public Health."

More specifically, Dr. Wiley will speak on the night of April 2 on the subject, "The Fight for Repression of Food and Drug Adulteration," while on the following evening he will deliver an address on "The Public Health, Our National Asset." Through the generosity of the committee in charge of the lectures, the Richmond public will be admitted free of charge to Dr. Wiley's lectures simply by making application to the committee at the college. The general invitation is made with but one string—on account of the limited accommodation not more than two tickets will be issued to one applicant. Both lectures will begin promptly at 8.15 o'clock.

When Dr. Wiley resigned from his place as chief chemist of the National Pure Food Bureau it was understood that he was not by any means relinquishing his sturdy fight for unadulterated food, products, but merely transferring his battleground from the laboratory to the courtroom. The lectures in Richmond will be among the first to be delivered by the famous expert of pure food, and are certain to attract tremendous crowds.

It is said by able critics that Dr. Wiley is as forceful a speaker as he is a chemist, which is the same as promising an unusual address. Dr. Wiley is a native of Indiana. He holds degrees from Hanover College, the Indiana Medical College, and Harvard University. He has been professor of Latin and Greek in Butler University, professor of chemistry in Purdue University, State Chemist of Indiana and chief chemist of the United States Department of Agriculture. He is in addition the author of numerous books and monographs.

Newton was arrested several days ago on the charge of robbing a jewelry store, but the police found him with a large sum of money in his pocket. He was released on a $1000 bond, but failed to appear in court. He was arrested again yesterday on the charge of robbing a jewelry store, and was locked up at the Second Police Station where he was charged with being a fugitive on a robbery charge.

Married in Washington. A marriage was celebrated yesterday in Washington, D. C., between Dr. Wiley and Miss Rhoads, daughter of the late Dr. Wiley.

UNITED STATES DEPOSITORY

Election of Councilmen and Administrative Board Overshadow Congressional Fight.

The City Democratic Committee will meet at Murphy's Hotel to-morrow night at 8.15 o'clock to fix upon a date and settle the terms of the spring primary, in which all members of the Council and all members of the Board of Aldermen in Clay Ward is to be held. The general election comes on the second Tuesday in June.

It seems to be the general understanding that since the new Byrd primary law, butting the expense of conducting primaries on the State does not take effect until three months after the General Assembly adjourns, that it will be necessary to conduct the spring primary for members of Council on the old assessment basis. There are already more than forty candidates for the two available seats in the new Council, and the new four-year plan cuts the body exactly in half.

The City Democratic Committee may also take some action in regard to the city's first Administrative Board on July 16, the date selected by the district committee for the district primary to nominate a candidate for the sixtieth Congress. The general election for members of the Administrative Board will not come until the Tuesday after the first Monday in November, and the board takes office on January 1 next.

May Be Wanted in Chicago. A boy, nineteen years old, who gave the name of Ralph Prentiss, was arrested yesterday by Sergeant Martin, Detective Krangel to the Second Police Station where he was charged with being a fugitive on a robbery charge. The police believe he is wanted by the authorities of Chicago, Ill.

TABLET TO HONOR ALEX. H. STEPHENS

Will Mark the Late Residence of the Vice-President of Confederacy.

Commemoration of the site of Alexander H. Stephens' home, where the United States Constitution was signed, will be made in the form of a tablet, which will be unveiled on May 22 by the Confederate Memorial Literary Society. This tablet, to mark the residence of the Vice-President of the Confederacy, is the gift of the trustees of the college to the sites committee of the memorial society and is one of a series of commemorative tablets to be placed by the Confederate Memorial Literary Society in Richmond. A prominent citizen of Georgia, Alexander Stephens, native State, will make the chief address at the unveiling.

It was further announced at the meeting of the Confederate Memorial Society held yesterday morning in the Confederate Museum, that permission had been granted by Secretary of the Treasury, McVeigh, to place a memorial tablet of the old wall of the Post-Office to commemorate the site of the building in which President Jeff Davis was tried. The old Post-Office is of further historic interest as it was the Post-Office of the Confederacy.

Through investigation, the society has determined that the office for exchange of prisoners during the Civil War was located at the northwest corner of Ninth and Franklin Streets, and a tablet will be placed on the building there to commemorate the old exchange.

Dr. James Power Smith has consented to deliver his address on "Federal Recollections of Stonewall Jackson" some night next month for the benefit of the sites committee of the memorial society. Several donations were announced at yesterday's meeting.

GOLD MEDAL FOR JEZEBEL GOAD

Wife of Governor of Virginia Favors Plan to Honor Young Woman.

MAY GET CARNEGIE MEDAL

Bravery at Hillsville Shooting Will Be Brought to Attention of Trustees.

In the hope of starting a gold medal fund, to be given Miss Jezebel Goad, daughter of the heroic clerk of the Carroll county Circuit Court, a contribution was sent yesterday to The Times-Dispatch by a Virginia girl, an admirer of the courage displayed by Miss Goad in the deadly battle of March 14, with the suggestion that the girls and women of Virginia raise a fund to purchase a gold medal to be presented to Miss Goad in behalf of the State for her bravery shown at Hillsville.

Mrs. William Hodges Mann, wife of the Governor, has consented gladly to the suggestion that she buy the medal, which is to be given to the heroine of Hillsville, and over long distance telephone from Petersburg last night gave her unqualified endorsement to the fund.

"I think it is a splendid suggestion," said Mrs. Mann, "and one that will appeal to every true Virginian. I shall be glad to lend my assistance in the purchase of the medal."

Further commendation of the plan was given last night by Governor Mann, who of his own accord has already written to Miss Goad the warmest letter of appreciation. "An excellent idea," said the Governor heartily, "Miss Goad deserves the highest commendation, both from the State and from the women of Virginia."

It has been suggested that an effort be made to secure for Miss Goad a Carnegie hero medal, and there is little doubt but that Miss Goad will receive a medal from the Carnegie Hero Fund. If the matter is brought squarely to the attention of the committee, and as soon as possible this will be done.

The Times-Dispatch will gladly receive and acknowledge any subscription, no matter how small, for this worthy cause. It is not the purpose of this paper that the medal should be purchased by large gifts from any two or three women, but that every girl and woman in the State should contribute her small portion and have a share in this testimonial of the State's appreciation of the heroic deed. The letter making the suggestion for the fund follows:

"The smoke has drifted from the battlefield at Hillsville, and now, on the one hand, we all clearly see and recently feel the shame the affair has brought upon Virginia, and on the other hand, we appreciate in the highest degree the martyrdom of the brave and heroic woman, and the splendid courage of Clerk Goad. There is one incident in the history of the battle which touched me deeply—the heroic action of Miss Jezebel Goad, the clerk's daughter, in her effort to get to her father's side to give such aid as she could, into the courthouse where she was working for her father, and while the firing was raging. At the door she attempted to wrench his pistol from one of the outlaw's hands as he was making his way out.

Goad deserves more than a commendation which I am pleased to know, Governor Mann, has given her. I propose that the young women and girls of Virginia send her a gold medal as big as her noble heart as a token of our high regard for her filial devotion and warm appreciation of her heroism, and on it let words like these be inscribed:

"To Miss Jezebel Goad, from the women and girls of Virginia, in token of their high regard and appreciation of her heroic conduct on March 14, 1912, at Hills, Carroll county, Virginia."

"I feel that every one closely connected with the noble defense of Virginia's honor and the majesty of the State at that awful day should be recognized. Hence, the proposal.

"I recall the words of Henry of Navarre, at the battle of Ivry, March 14, 1590: 'If my standard fall you, keep my plume in sight; you will see it in the face of glory and honor.' And the brave mountain girl of Hillsville heard the voice, and into the fray she went and came out with 'glory and honor.'"

"I send you herein 50 cents as my mite towards purchasing the proposed gold medal, and I this suggestion meets with the response it deserves, a sufficient amount will soon be raised."

"Let me further suggest that The Times-Dispatch act as receiver of the fund, and that Mrs. Governor Mann attend to the purchase of the medal and the inscription thereon."

Very respectfully,
"ONE WHO ADMIRER HER COURAGE"

HUNDREDS ATTEND FUNERAL OF LYNCH

Mayor, City Council and Many Citizens Crowd St. Peter's Church.

The funeral of Councilman John J. Lynch took place yesterday at noon at St. Peter's Catholic Church, and was attended by a large gathering, representing many walks of life.

Members of the Common Council and Board of Aldermen attended the funeral, accompanied by Mayor Richardson and practically all of the department heads of the city government. The interment was made in Mount Calvary Cemetery.

The service was conducted by Rev. Father Bowler and Rev. Father Magrath, St. Peter's, and an address was made by Right Rev. Dennis J. O'Connell, the newly appointed Bishop of Richmond. Bishop O'Connell made feeling reference to the fact that in his young ministry, when a priest attached to St. Peter's Church, in which the services were being held, Mr. Lynch had been one of the altar boys. Another word was said recently occurred had been one of the altar boys and it was generally understood that his reference was to the late Dr. Daniel J. Coleman, whose death occurred last week.

Many prominent business men, laborers and city employees, as well as churchmen and people of all kinds, testified their appreciation of Mr. Lynch as a man, a citizen, a friend and a public officer by their attendance at his funeral, and a large number went with the family to the last resting place in Mount Calvary cemetery. The floral designs were unusually numerous and massive.

The Common Council met at the City Hall at 11 o'clock, when resolutions attesting the affection and esteem in which Mr. Lynch was held by his colleagues were adopted. The memorial was prepared by a committee consisting of Gilbert K. Pollock, H. R. Pollock, Jr., George W. Rogers, Jacob Umstut and J. A. Whitshire.

LYNCH'S SEAT MAY REMAIN VACANT

Council Opposed to Holding Election for Brief Unexpired Term.

In view of the near approach of the spring primary, it is doubtful whether any steps will be taken to fill the seat in the Common Council from Jefferson Ward made vacant by the death last Sunday night of Councilman John J. Lynch. A fatherly legal point has arisen as a result of the redistricting into four wards. Many contend that the "four ward ordinance" does not take effect until September 1 next, when the life of this Council expires, and that therefore there is now a vacancy from Jefferson Ward. Others take the ground that the new plan of redistricting took effect from its passage, the members merely holding on to the ends of the terms to which they were elected. Under this construction, new Jefferson Ward, entitled to five representatives, has as a matter of fact nine—Messrs. Hirschberg, Mills, Selph and Whitshire, from old Jefferson, and Messrs. Lumsden, Powers, Richards, Rogers and Sullivan, who were elected from Marshall, but live in the household of new Jefferson Ward. If the first contention is sustained, Messrs. Hirschberg, Mills, Selph and Whitshire will compose the ward delegation to nominate some one for the unexpired term.

The Committee on Electricity, of which Mr. Lynch was chairman, will meet shortly to reorganize. Sub-Chairman John P. Don Leavy had been mentioned as a possible chairman, but he is chairman of the Committee on Markets, and the rules of the Council do not permit a member to be chairman of more than one joint standing committee.

SUFFRAGIST MEETING
Mrs. B. B. Valentine and Miss Mary Johnston to Address Maelholm Organization. An open meeting of the Virginia Suffragist Association, held at the headquarters, 809 East Broad Street, Saturday afternoon, March 26, at 8 o'clock, an hour later than at which members have assembled during the past winter. Mrs. B. B. Valentine will preside, and Mrs. E. L. Lindsay, secretary, reports of work accomplished and work to be done will be discussed. Visitors will be cordially welcomed.

The club at Asland, Va., has asked Mrs. Kate Langley Bisher to talk to them next week on the subject of "Woman." On Monday evening next at 8 o'clock at the Temple of Labor, Fifth and Marshall Streets, addresses will be made by Mrs. B. Valentine, Miss Mary Johnston and other speakers of the Equal Suffrage League of Richmond, their families and friends.

Suit on Trial.
Trial continued yesterday in the Law and Equity Court of the warmly-contested suit of Lucy V. Bisher against the Virginia Railway and Power Company, in which damages are asked in the sum of $5000 for personal injury sustained by the plaintiff, a street car and its automobile at the intersection of Main Street and the city of Richmond, Va., on December 14, 1910. Taking of evidence will resume on Monday.

Smooth Pave Grove Avenue.
Smooth paving on Grove Avenue to cost $25,000 was recommended by the former plan to widen the Rosemead Road, which failed of adoption. The fund, it was stated, would be sufficient to pave with asphalt block the roadbed of Grove Avenue from the end of the present smooth paving to the hardy street approximately to Robinson Street. Some objection was raised that many of the property owners along this section of Grove Avenue have not seen fit to provide sidewalks, and it was argued that the city should make a suggestion to the property owners where the property owners show so little interest in the betterment of the neighborhood. At the request of Mr. Richards, Chairman Pollard was directed to arrange for an inspection of the present smooth paving at Robinson Street, and the committee to pass on plans for improvements at Thirty-first and Grace Streets, including extension of the Chesapeake and Ohio Tunnel, and the opening of Grace Street through to Chimborazo Park, together with such other improvements as will put an end to the disastrous slides which have greatly damaged the park, two of which have occurred in the past week.

On account of the death of Chairman John J. Lynch, of the Electricity Committee, and the fact that the committee has now no chairman, and because of the absence from the city of Chairman Mills, of the Water Committee, the ordinance regulating the management of the municipal electric plant was not taken up. A number of minor salary increases were recommended for adoption.

RETURNS WITH HUDSON
Deputy Sheriff J. A. Turner, of Southampton County, came to Richmond Saturday morning, accompanied by Mrs. A. G. W. B. Hudson, who is wanted at Courtland on a serious charge alleged to have been committed by her in the month of January, 1911. She was returned with the prisoner yesterday afternoon.

He was accompanied here by a brother of the girl, who has been held at the Associated Charities.

Hudson, who is said to be a farmer of means, came to Richmond last week and was arrested at a Broad Street Hotel on a statutory charge.

His daughter, being missing from home her father came to Richmond last week and found her in the custody of the police. He was informed of the facts in the case and returned home to prefer charges against Hudson.

Hudson is forty-two years old, married, and the father of several children.

Damage Suit Instituted.
Suit was brought yesterday in the Law and Equity Court by Houston M. Anderson against the Virginia Railway and Power Company for damages in the sum of $5,000. She is represented by Attorney W. M. Justice, Jr. No declaration has been filed.

JUVENILE COURT RECOMMENDED

Cost to City Will Be But Three Thousand Dollars Per Annum.

SMOOTH PAVE GROVE AVENUE

Finance Committee Provides Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars for Great Improvement.

Provision for a juvenile court and for detention of children under the age of seventeen while awaiting trial is effected under terms of an ordinance recommended to the Council last night by the Committee on Finance, carrying an appropriation for the operation of the court, employment of a matron and probation officer of $5,000.

The ordinance authorizes the commitment of minors under seventeen years of age when arraigned in the Police Court under the terms of a State law approved March 16, 1910, provides for the expenditure of the fund and the operation of the Juvenile Court, and expresses supervision of the Mayor, who must appoint a matron, and authorizes the Juvenile Protective Society of Virginia to make arrangements to provide a home for the detention of any child under the age of years of age committed for trial, and if necessary to provide for a matron, to be appointed by the Mayor, to care and have the custody of such children.

Gives Private Trial.
The matron is to receive $450 per annum. A companion ordinance has provided for a male probation officer to receive $450 per annum. The ordinance also provides for the trial of juvenile delinquents, which may, if the Police Justice so decides, be held in chambers without the presence of the usual Police Court rabble.

The Finance Committee gave final approval to the pending proceedings for the condemnation of the property of T. C. Williams, needed to straighten a sewer along the line of Bacon's Quarter Branch, at the intersection of Lombardy Street, being about three acres. The committee also approved the condemnation awards for land to be taken in alley between Broad and Marshall, Second and Third Streets.

In view of what is regarded as excessive valuation by the present owner, Andrew Pizzini, Jr., the committee recommended to the Council that condemnation proceedings be instituted for acquisition of the old Rathskeller property, needed to enlarge William Byrd Park. The property has on it a fine grove of old trees, and would make a handsome addition to the park. The present owner, Andrew Pizzini, Jr., has offered to sell the property for $35,000. The whole tract it is said, could have been recently acquired for $15,000.

Health Inspector.
An additional inspector in the Health Department was recommended in lieu of the request of the Health Board for two more. The Board has also given for appointment of a deputy clerk of Hustings Court, Part 2, at $600 per annum.

The ordinance fixing the salary of the members of the Administrative Board was adopted, and was a resolution providing for a raise in the salary of the members of the Board, and the plan to open Fifteenth Street by a tunnel under Broad Street. The request of certain Councilmen for an auto fire truck, to allow the establishment of a hook and ladder truck company in Richmond, was also adopted by the Council for consideration later in the year. An additional fireman in the Fire Department was authorized at $900 per annum.

At request of Mr. Butler, the resolution ordering condemnation of land to open Jessamine Street through the Twenty-first Street was taken from the table and recommended for adoption.

Virginia Negro in Roumania Suffers Because State Had No Vital Statistics Law.

A Virginia negro in far-off Roumania who is anxious to become a benedict will doubtless be in tears when the information from the State Health Department that there is no legal record of his birth in Virginia, thanks to the absence of a vital statistics law.

The negro, who styles himself a "colored music hall artist" and declares that he is "always jumping from one country to another," is at present in the Balkan country, and is anxious to take unto himself a wife. A stranger in a strange land, he has been informed by the Roumanian authorities that he can procure a marriage certificate if he will produce a legal certificate of his birth, but that if he has no birth certificate, he will have to wait until he has one. The negro, whose letter was received yesterday at the State Health Department, claims to be a native of Virginia, and is sure of the date of his birth and knows where he first saw the light, but he has no legal certificate that will satisfy the Roumanian authorities of the law.

Health Commissioner Williams would be glad to oblige the unfortunate artist, but he is sorry to hear that he has no birth certificate, and that he has no legal certificate that will satisfy the Roumanian authorities of the law. The Commissioner is sorry to hear that he has no birth certificate, and that he has no legal certificate that will satisfy the Roumanian authorities of the law. The Commissioner is sorry to hear that he has no birth certificate, and that he has no legal certificate that will satisfy the Roumanian authorities of the law.

In this State we have had no such regulations. Unless a man is born in a city or town which keeps its own vital statistics, he has heretofore never been able to secure such a legal record of his birth. The new vital statistics law will, of course, remedy this deplorable condition, and will give to every man a permanent record of his life, but these certificates, naturally, will be of no value to prospective benedicts until twenty-one years from the date of their birth. The new vital statistics law will, of course, remedy this deplorable condition, and will give to every man a permanent record of his life, but these certificates, naturally, will be of no value to prospective benedicts until twenty-one years from the date of their birth.

The record of his birth, however, goes into effect on June 1, and will then provide for the registration of every birth and death occurring in Virginia. All the expenses and inconvenience of trying to prove a birth date will then be obviated. Such cases as this cannot occur.

MOTHERS' CLUBS AT MARCH MEETING

Will Meet Again in April to Elect Officers for Year.

The March meeting of the Federation of Mothers' Clubs was held in the mothers' room in the old High School on Tuesday afternoon to make preparations for the annual election of officers to be held the second week in April. A nominating committee of three was appointed to prepare a ticket for the election. The committee was composed of Mrs. W. H. Curry, of Bellevue; Mrs. J. B. Stiers, of Madison; and Mrs. H. L. Crawford, of Central. It was voted to allow the president of each club five minutes for a report at the annual meeting. Each club was urged to bring a large delegation to hear these reports. The president of the Federation, Mrs. H. L. Crawford, of Barton Heights, had announced at the February meeting that she would not stand for re-election.

Resolutions of sympathy were passed for Mrs. E. L. Lindsay, honorary president, who is seriously ill at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, and for Mrs. A. G. Rogers, the recording secretary, who has been very ill at her home. Flowers were sent to both of the indisposed officers.
